Canyon 1st National Bank Changes Hands

Liquor Option Vote Slated Wednesday

First local option election in Randall County since repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment has been called for Wednesday in Justice of Peace Precinct 4.

The proposition will be for or against the legal sale of alcoholic beverages including mixed drinks.

Polls will open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, according to Hutton.

Absentee voting is underway in the South Amarillo annex with some 178 ballots being cast to date.

Randall County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said the precinct involved includes all of South Amarillo and extends southward to McCormick Road within five miles of Canyon, south down Washington about three miles, eastward to Palo Duro Canyon and thence along the middle of the canyon to the Armstrong County line.

He explained some 18,000 ballots have been ordered for a registered voter list of 16,778 persons.

The election was called last month by Randall County commissioners court after the county clerk presented the court with petitions bearing the names of 3,945 qualified voters from the justice precinct. Only 3,715 were required.

Petitions were circulated under leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Meehan who along with her husband, Jess, operates the Personality House Restaurant on Western.

Seven election judges and alternates will include C.M. Purcell, judge, and Mrs. Bill Harp, alternate; Ronald Holeman, judge, and Ruth Andrews, alternate; Mary Miner, judge, Mrs. H.M. Wise, alternate; Bob Skinner, judge, and Ben H. McMullin, alternate; Charles O. Clark, judge, and Guy Blanton, alternate; Betty Sterquell, judge, and Mrs. Bert Watson, alternate;

More Money Needed For Wheelchair

At least $200 more is needed to purchase a special wheelchair for Mrs. Nadine Jolly, of Canyon.

Mrs. Jolly, who has been seriously ill and hospitalized since March of this year is presently living in Golden Age Nursing Home in Amarillo.

Tierra Blanca Chapter of National Secretaries Association in Canyon is sponsoring the fund raising campaign.

Persons wishing to donate should contact Mrs. Lou Ritter, 655-2111 or 655-3436 after 5 p.m. Gifts may be given in Mrs. Jolly's name at the First National Bank and the West Texas State Bank, both in Canyon.

No Classes On Monday

All Canyon public school students and West Texas State University students will dismissed from classes Monday for Labor Day.

The Canyon schools faculties will go to work as usual, however, for a workday. These workdays will be held periodically through the year to fulfill the state requirements for in service training, according to school superintendent Jerry Jacobs.

WTSU teachers and students alike will be dismissed Monday, according to T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life.

Classes for Canyon students will resume at 8:35 a.m. Tuesday and all WTSU students will return to their classes at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Chamber Asks Stores Close

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has recommended that Monday, which is Labor Day, be a closing holiday, according to manager Roland Black. The chamber recommends six closing holidays a year.

THEY CAME FROM SPAIN

Gala Tonight

'They Came From Spain' Opens

The Spaniards are coming — tonight to Palo Duro Canyon Pioneer Amphitheatre.

It's the grand opening of the sound and light production "They Came From Spain", which begins at 8:15 p.m.

"They Came From Spain", will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights through Oct. 30. Two Sunday shows will be held, Labor Day and Columbus Day, Oct. 10.

Special dignitaries will be guest at the show along with representatives from some 23 area newspapers, radio and television stations.

A Spanish dinner will precede the first performance.

Guests will include the Mexican consul Ignacio Otero Arrieta and the vice-consul Luis Felix Pacheco, Maurice Coats, executive director of the Fine Arts and Humanities Commission of Texas; and Brig. Gen. James Cross, executive director of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Invitations have been sent out for Friday night's performance to teachers who instruct science, social studies, Spanish and drama.

"We have invited some 1200 teachers," said Mrs. Margaret Harper, author of the show. "We believe they will find the show fascinating and want their students to see it also."

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes will highlight the Labor Day show Sunday evening along with his wife Nancy.

Eddie Thomas of Dallas is show director and has drawn the cast and crew together in the making of the costumes, props, directing the cast for filmed section and for the live performance.

The story begins with the creation in terms of Biblical and scientific history showing formation of the canyon as it developed through the ages. The show then brings the audience to the time when Coronado led his troops across the Plains and made their way to the canyon in 1542.

Much of the show will be done in film flashed against the canyon wall as backdrop. Other portions will be done with live action on the theatre stage and with special lighting and sound effects.

Tickets for the show are available through Box 268, Canyon or phone 655-2182.

Vars, West Head Purchasing Group

BY TROY MARTIN

In the biggest financial transaction here in recent years, control of First National Bank changed hands Tuesday at a price in excess of $2 million.

Don Max Vars and David West headed up a group of some 30 local farmers and businessmen who purchased the First National holdings of Randall County Investment Company owned by W.E. Adams and Stanley Marsh III.

Involved was 68 percent of the outstanding shares in the $22 million bank.

Vars was named president of the institution at a called meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night culminating months of negotiation. At 33 years of age Vars is the seventh and youngest president in First National Bank's 71-year history.

West, who played a key role in putting together the purchasing group, was named executive vice president.

Levi Cole, veteran Canyon banker, was a moving force in the purchasing group. He will stay on as chairman of the board playing a role of elder statesman.

Adams, who came here in early 1967 as the bank's president, said his plans at present are indefinite. He said he is a stockholder in First National and will continue as a member of its board of directors.

Vars is a native of Tulia having graduated from high school there in 1956. He was graduated from Texas Tech in 1960 with a BBA in finance and became a bank examiner, a job he held until 1965 when he joined First National Bank in Canyon as a vice president.

Since that time he has been a loan officer there.

His wife is the former Lila Gay Buske of Friona. The couple has two children, Mayla Dawn, 8 years old, and Misty Shawn, 5.

Active in civic work in the community, Vars is a past president of the Canyon Lions Club and served as a director for Canyon Chamber

Commission Postpones Meet Tonight

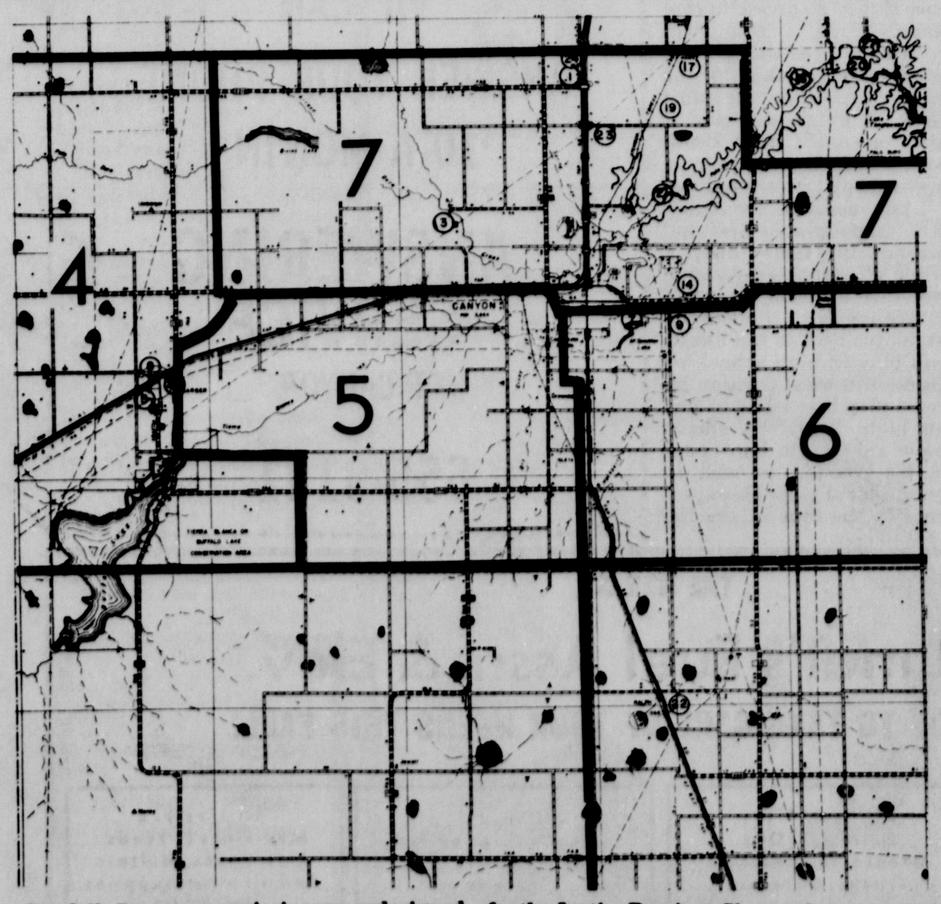

Canyon city commissioners will not meet tonight for their regular session, according to City Manager George Loudder.

"We had no pressing business," Loudder explained. "And with the opening of 'They Came From Spain' we felt the meeting could be postponed."

The next meeting will be Sept. 16 in the Community Center.

Randall County commissioners redesigned Justice Precinct 3 and voting precinct 4 allowing Umbarger residents to form their own justice precinct. A delegation of three men from Umbarger requested the change, allowing a liquor option petition to be issued for the Justice Precinct. Shown above are new voting precincts 4, and the new boundaries of voting precincts 5 and 7. Justice precinct 3 will have the same boundaries as voting precinct 4, according to commissioners.

Umbarger Gets Justice Precinct

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Umbarger residents can vote for or against liquor if they choose after Commissioners Court juggled precinct boundaries Monday.

A three-man delegation from Umbarger requested the transfer of Justice Precinct 3 from the southeastern section of the county to Umbarger. And after redesigning Commissioners voted the change.

The new precinct, shaped like a crooked boot, will enable Umbarger residents to take out a a liquor option petition and vote on the issue if the petition passes.

In making the change, the court redesigned voting precinct 4 and moved dormant Justice Precinct 3.

Siegfried Bolte, Umbarger farmer, headed the delegation.

He told the commissioners the people of Umbarger would "like to have an election" on the liquor question.

After requesting the change, the three men helped commissioners draw the boundary lines for the new precinct.

Commissioners said they wanted the eastern boundary line as far from Canyon as possible.

Commissioner Bill Butler explained the court did not want to place liquor option boundaries too close to Canyon since a liquor petition circulated last month in Canyon did not get the required number of names.

"The people of Canyon showed they did not want li-

Freeze Affect Unknown

Unable to get guidelines from state or federal officials, Canyon school administrators this week said they do not know how the presidential wage freeze will affect public school faculty members.

School superintendent Jerry Jacobs said he was told by the state department of education that he had two choices on the matter.

He can pay according to last year's schedules and if the raises are allowed, pay them as soon as there is an official ruling; or he can pay on new schedules and deduct if raises are not allowed when a ruling is obtained.

Jacobs said he opted to pay on the old schedules and will pick up the tab for the raises if they are allowed.

"I'd rather give someone something than to have to take it away from them," Jacobs reasoned.

Jacbos said he would follow this policy until he receives an official directive and knows for sure.

Classroom teachers could lose up to $400 per year in expected wages if the freeze applies to them and if the freeze continues through the school term.

Jacobs said that most teachers are willing to go along with the price freeze as long as it is universal and fair, applying to everyone.

Ironically, if the freeze had become effective on

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

Congressman Graham Purcell was motivated by more than money when he decided to run against Republican Bob Price in the 13th District next year instead of moving to the 24th which takes in a part of Fort Worth and Dallas and all of Denton.

Purcell undoubtedly would have had Democratic opposition in the spring and Republican opposition in the fall.

This would have meant two expensive and grueling campaigns. Purcell had no stomach for this.

Purcell drew criticism from businessmen for some of his words at a small gathering in the court house here.

Purcell asked if we had any questions.

I asked why the federal government had continued to heap bookkeeping onto the small businessman. I told him about a set of records my newspaper is being forced to keep on the health of company employes.

The congressman looked at me incredulously when I told him of this and other gratis and expensive bookkeeping I'm forced to do.

"If I were a small businessman I think I'd just quit," the congressman declared.

Possibly Congressman Purcell is unaware that small businessmen have families to support and can't quit.

Alice McGehee of Happy was a young secretary in Washington during the middle Roosevelt days back in the late 1930's.

She was close to men of power and at that time saw much of our trouble coming. Mrs. McGehee was fond of politics as she is today and was perceptive in an environment of power.

She talked to FDR on several occasions and often asked him how he hoped to feed the poor by having food destroyed as he did.

She saw the Roosevelt administration move toward accomodation with the Soviet Union and the setting of the stage for the cold war, Korea and Vietnam.

Having seen it and lived it as political liberalism rose to tremendous power, Mrs. McGehee is now a conservation.

It looks like Canyon has a good chance to be sandwiched in between two wet portions of Randall County.

People pushing passage of liquor by the drink in South Amarillo say it's going to pass there and if it comes to a vote in the Umbarger area, I predict it will carry there.

As I've said before, I think the entire state should be either wet or dry.

Certainly this goes for Randall County. Checkerboard areas of wet and dry can only lead to an intolerable situation especially for law enforcement officers.

Junior High Classes Undergo Changes

Students at Canyon Junior High School will be starting classes five minutes earlier each day to allow for seven periods instead of six, according to Principal Dave Corley.

Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m.

The time between classes has been cut to four minutes instead of five and classes have been shortened from an hour to 54 minutes each.

The seven-period schedule will allow students to choose another elective, said Corley, and will permit band students to be placed in either the Symphonic or the Concert Band, at the option of the directors.

"Class sizes are better. Some students are still moving because of overcrowding in elective subjects," said Corley. "By the end of the day Thursday, we should have all schedule changes made."

"We've been keeping students with the same teachers as much as possible. The program hasn't suffered that much during the changes."

The change allows for three different lunch periods, which gives students more time to eat by creating shorter lines, he said.

The change does work a hardship on the high school, said Corley, because some band and vocational agriculture students go to the high school for first period classes and have to be dismissed at 9:24 instead of 9:35, as they were under the old schedule.

Stop For Buses

Stop when you see that school bus — that's the law.

A new law passed by the legislature makes stopping for a school bus mandatory if that bus is stopped or blinking lights on the bus are on.

According to Highway Patrolman Ron Boyter, drivers must stop when a bus stops if the car is on the same roadway as the bus.

"No matter what direction you are going, you can not pass a bus if it is stopped or has its lights flashing," Boyter explained.

He continued saying a vehicle going the opposite direction than the bus on a four lane highway (Canyon Expressway) can continue without stopping, but a car in the same roadway as the bus must stop and remain stopped while the bus is stopped unless the driver motions the car on.

"The driver can motion a car around," Boyter pointed out. "But that is the only way. Progress can't continue until the bus begins again."

Paul Tobins Tennis Head

Paul Tobins has been elected as captain of West Texas State's tennis team. The St. Louis senior is a two-year letterman.

"Paul could well step into the number one singles post held last year by Leo Estopare," said coach David Kent.

Tobin won the Missouri Valley Conference number two singles title and captured the number one doubles crown last spring as the Buffaloes won the team title.

Tobin, an English major, has won two national titles. He won the national Public Parks doubles title in 1970 and was the National Junior College singles winner in 1969.

The entire Buffalo team will compete Sept. 4-6 in the Tri-State Tennis Tournament at Amarillo. Others are Mike Bolton, John Phillips, Dale Corbin, Mark Nabors, Joe Carrick, Steve Bailey, John Michie, and Joe Jopling.

Eagles-Whitefaces Scrimmage Friday

The Canyon Eagles will journey to Hereford Friday night to battle the Hereford Whitefaces in the Eagles second scrimmage of the year.

Flu has taken its toll on the Canyon squad as four players are listed as doubtful starters due to the illness.

Cliff Prichard, Matt Hanson and Wayne Todd, all starting or second string backs are on the doubtful list according to head coach Ron Mills, while Rocky Chambers will definitely see any action.

"The Whitefaces will probably be as strong a physical team as we will play all year, " Mills said. They are extremely large ball club and they have a very fine quarterback in Keith Kitchens. Kitchens has a fine passing arm," Mills added.

Hereford is expected to use the identical offensive and defensive sets that the Eagles use; the pro set, the I and the wishbone,on offense and 5-4 and the split six on defense.

Against Snyder last week the Eagles racked up 280 yards total offense, 155 of those yards coming through the air and 125 on the ground.

Quarterback Chuck Wright completed six of ten passes for 108 yards, while backup quarterback Mike Shadix completed three of eight passes for 57 yards. Wright favorite receiver was Mike Podzemny who snagged five of those six Wright completions for 98 yeards.

Hanson was the most productive Eagle ball carrier in that scrimmage, carrying the ball nine times for 54 yards and a nine yard per carry average.

Larry Prichard and Hanson were graded the highest on the offensive team by the coaches for their performance. Van James and Roy Markam were graded the highest on the defensive team.

Scrimmage time for the Canyon-Hereford tilt has been set at 6 p.m. for the junior varsity and 7:15 p.m. for the varsity.

Frosh To Open '71 Grid Slate

Approximately 247 gridders will battle for positions on the six junior high school football teams according to coach Eddie Smith.

Today the ninth grade purple and white teams will take to the field to open a three week schedule of intramural games which are to be held prior to any out of town competition.

The seventh and eight grade purple and white teams will begin their schedule of intramural games next Tuesday.

There are 247 prospective gridders in the three grades, according to Smith which "is more than we have ever had before."

The seventh grade boasts 116 gridders, the eight grade has 75, while 56 freshman boys have enrolled for football.

"We will try to run the same basic offense and defense as the high school," Smith said. "The seventh graders will run from one offensive formation. The eighth graders will have two formations to work from, while the freshmen will have three offensive sets.

The two team per grade program was initiated four years ago under coach Dunne Good," Smith said. "We feel like neither the coaches nor the boys know whether they will make a football player or not in the seventh grade. The two team set up gives the boys a chance to see if they like football and gives them valuable experience if they do decide to continue.

"It also gives the coaches three years to look at all the boys, rather than the same 15 or 20 every year and it gives us much more depth with which to work from in high school," Smith said.

Last year the two freshman teams placed first and second in their district, while a seventh grade team won their district.

"We try to start each boy at the position we feel like he will play in high school, regardless of what position he could play best while in junior high. Each boy should have a complete knowledge of his position as well as quite a lot of valuable experience by the time he reaches high school," Smith commented.

The seventh graders will begin their intramural game at 5 p.m. next Tuesday here.

The freshmen will begin playing out of town competitors Sept. 23 when both the Purple and White teams will play in Borger.

The seventh and eight grade purple teams will open their out of town opponent schedule Sept. 25 against Borger South. The seventh and eighth grade White teams will also open their out of town opponent schedule Sept. 25 in Canyon against Borger North.

Chester O'Brien Speaks Sunday

Services are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The morning sermon will be on "Assurance" and the evening one on "Hope."

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

In our tired, tense, troubled world, we often ignore the greatest source of energy, peace and contentment available: the resistance of temptation.

Every time we resist the temptation to put off until tomorrow — or skip entirely — the task we know we should do today, we increase our energy, and time — our most precious commodity.

Every time we resist food, beverage, or conduct we know to be detrimental to our welfare, we strengthen our characters and increase our self respect.

There are times when all of us are tempted to be unkind. We usually have ample provocation every day — especially in our own homes. Someone is cruel or unfair to us, and it is natural to strike back.

But the one who refuses to retaliate proves himself a bigger, better, stronger person than his assailant. It takes far more courage to resist a natural impulse than to yield.

The dividends in self respect alone are worth the price. And after all, the only person anyone has to live with is himself. Good company is always invigorating.

Everything is relative. The aching, empty arms of the woman who is denied motherhood would probably welcome an afflicted child.

Americans are especially prone to grieve over every birthday after 21. Yet the real joy and accomplishments usually come to people after they pass the "fatal" age of 40.

Many rich seventy-year-olds will readily admit they would give all their wealth to be 40 again. Few of them want to be 30. Probably none wants to be 20.

The one who resists the temptation to grieve over the natural aging process, and thanks God for the youth he has left is the person who is perennially young and productive.

One of our major national problems is inflation. Authorities report that employee stealing adds 15% to the average family's available cash. But the greatest blessing would accrue to the employees themselves.

The most valuable dividend would be in peace of mind and self respect. And the energy resulting from resisting the temptation would probably enable the ex-thief to accumulate more material goods than stealing would ever net him.

The majority of thieves are usually caught. They may not be prosecuted or even fired, but employers usually know when they are being robbed. The thieving employee is seldom promoted to a place of trust or responsibility.

Probably all married people find members of the opposite sex who are attractive. To be tempted to cheat is no sin. The trouble comes from yielding to the temptation.

Recently, in a church of some 2000 members, the Sunday School superintendent and the pianist fell in love. They were both interesting, charming, brilliant young people. The attraction was understandable.

The only flaw was both happened to be married to someone else. Had they resisted the temptation to do anything about their infatuation, no one would have been the wiser, and their energies and self respect would have multiplied.

But they yielded, and a great church has almost been destroyed. Two homes were ruined, and several children heartbroken.

Yielding to any temptation to do wrong usually initiates a ripple of misery that ends on eternity's shore. Resisting temptation begins a ripple of happiness that is equally lasting.

Court Positions Open

West Texas State University Supreme Court and Traffic Court have vacancies, according to Dwight James, Student Supreme Court Chief Justice.

Positions are available for three on the Supreme Court, 10 on the Traffic Court and for one court bailiff.

"We have received several applications," James said, "but we want to wait until a good number of students have had time to come by and fill out applications."

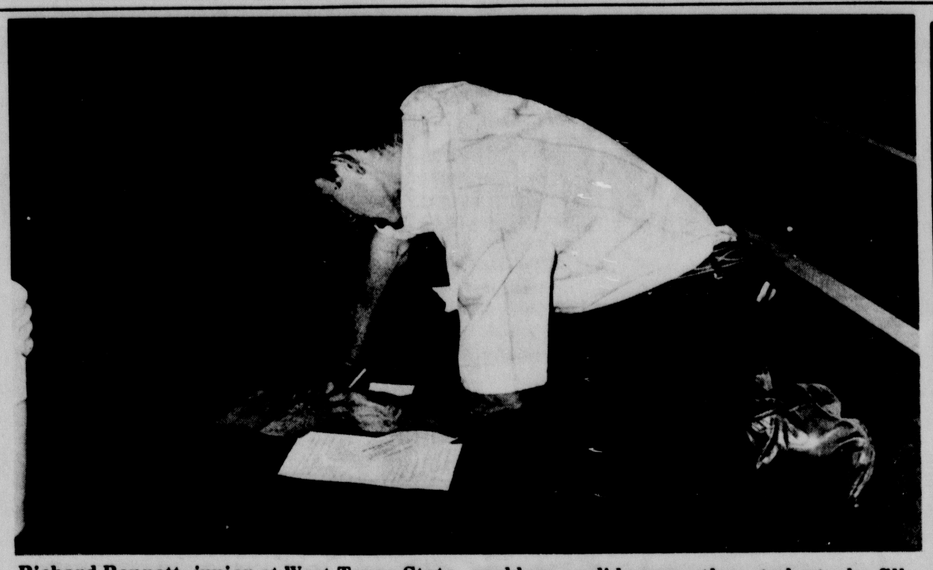

Anyone wishing to apply for the Supreme Court vacancies must be at least a sophomore with a 1.5 gradepoint average. The Supreme Court will meet every Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

Applicants for the Traffic Court must have a 1.0 gradepoint average and 12 semester hours credit. Traffic Court will meet in shifts Monday through Friday, James said. "We are going to try to have two persons a day who can work the Court into their schedule for one and a half to two hours.

Students interested in the court bailiff position should see Dwight James in the Student Association office. "The bailiff can be anyone," James said. The bailliff will receive $50 a semester pay, he added.

Applicants for any of the positions should leave their names with the secretary in the Student Association Office, Room 218 in the Activities Center. Supreme Court applicants must turn in their transcripts upon application.

All positions, except that of the court bailiff, which will be filled by James, will be made by appointment by Gary Blanscet, Student Association president. All appointments will be subject to Senate approval.

Richard Bennett, junior at West Texas State University, found the tables a little crowded during registration Friday, so solved the problem, as did many other students, by filling out required forms on the floor.

Directories To Be Ready On October 1

West Texas State University student directories will be ready for distribution by October 1, according to Weldon Trice, Dean of Men.

The listings will not be completed until the final day of registration Saturday, Trice said. The directories will include residence hall and off-campus student listings with hometown, dorm and classifications, he added.

Cost of the directory is covered in the student activity fees. City businesses receive the directories complimentary if they request one, the dean's office reported.

A roster of names and phone number will be placed on the bulletin board of each dorm as well as in the offices of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women, Trice said.

'Wild Bunch' Set For WT Showing

The "Wild Bunch" will be the next film in the West Texas State University Student Activities Council film series for the fall semester.

The film will be shown at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Room 202 of the Activity Center. Cast of the film includes William Holden, Ernest Borgnine, Robert Ryan, Edmond O'Brien and Warren Oates.

"Bonnie and Clyde" opened the fall film series with two showings last week.

Other film scheduled at the Activities Center will include "The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter", 8 p.m. Sept. 23-24; "Far From the Maddening Crowd," 7 p.m. Oct. 7; "Joe", and a short-fun film "With Their Eyes on the Stars," 8 p.m. Oct. 14-15.

"Frankenstein" and Dracula" will be shown Oct. 29. "Bullitt" is set for Nov. 4-5, with "Blowup" following on Nov. 11. Closing out the fall film series will be "Sea Bull," Dec. 4-5.

"The Magic Christian," orginally scheduled for 7 p.m. Sept. 9, has been cancelled, said Jim Holston, director the Student Activities Council. However, the council is trying to replace the film, he added.

The series is open to all WTSU students, faculty and their guests. Tickets are priced at 75 cents with ID and will be available at the door on performance nights.

Arraignment Held Here

An 18-year-old Amarillo man was arraigned before Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson Tuesday on charges of possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

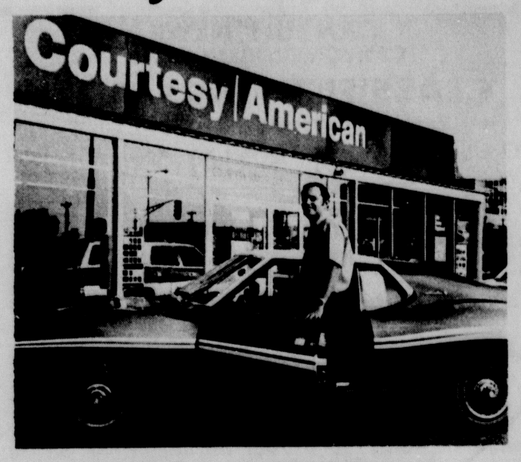

Mike Williams, 3615 South Crockett, Amarillo, is being held in Randall County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Metro Squad officers arrested Williams Monday afternoon and charged him with the felony, which carries two to ten year, according to Randall County Criminal Dist. Atty. George Dowlen.

Williams is on misdemeanor probation in Potter County, Dowlen said.

WTSU Registration Shows Student Loss

Late registration for the fall semester at West Texas State University continues through noon Saturday.

Unless late-comers boost the registration figure significantly this week, the university will show a decline in enrollment over last year.

Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar, said 7,225 students started the registration process through last Saturday. This was 466 fewer students than at the same time a year ago.

In analyzing the lower registration, Dr. Cates said:

"Information from students who chose not to enroll indicates that the majority of the loss is in part-time students taking one or two courses only.

"Registration for part-time students is almost as expensive this year as full-time enrollment was last year. There was also a small, but significant, loss of students who would have been required to pay non-resident tuition. Tuition increased for full-time non-resident students by about 300 per cent."

The 1971 Legislature raised resident tuition to a minimum of $50 per semester for up to 12 credit hours of courses and $4 an hour for 13 or more hours.

In an effort to hold the line on rising costs, the university did not increase the various other fees charged students such as other state institutions have done.

West Texas State's final enrollment for the fall semester last year was 7,905. Final enrollment figures for the current semester will not be available until the 12th class day report in mid-September.

200 Attend Convocation

More than 200 girls attended rush convocation for sororities at West Texas State University Monday evening, according to Miss Connie Richardson, Panhellenic rush chairman.

Sorority presidents and Mrs. Carolyn Newbold, Panhellenic advisor, presented a skit covering the rules of pledging. Discussion groups were formed afterward.

Dean of Women Jean Roberts spoke.

This year's sorority presidents are Miss Marilyn Bourland, Zeta Tau Alpha, Miss Jancel Arnold, Chi Omega Miss Pam Garrison, Alpha Delta Pi, and Miss Judy Brownlow, Delta Zeta.

Advisors Named

Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae held a tasting tea Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Stan Elliott, 3206 Conner Dr.

During the business meeting presided over by Mrs. George Blackwell, president, Mrs. Darrell Yarbrough was chosen standards advisor and Mrs. Frank Castleberry, scholarship director. The two will work with the sorority's WTSU chapter.

Two new members are Mrs. C.J. Dunias from Odessa and Mrs. David LaBrie from Austin. Mrs. Castleberry was welcomed as a new special initiate.

There were 17 present.

DZ Hosts Lubbock, Amarillo

A salad supper will be held September 13 at 6 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Larry Cook, 1210 Creekmere, for visiting members of the Delta Zeta Lubbock alumnae, the Amarillo alumnae, and the hostessing Canyon alumnae.

The groups will meet to discuss the upcoming October Founder's Day and the spring State Day agenda. Both events will be held in Lubbock this year. After the supper the alumnae will meet with the Zeta Zeta chapter at 8 p.m. in the Activities Center on the WTSU campus.

The announcement of the dinner was made at the recent meeting held in the home of Canyon Alumnae president Mrs. Don Olson.

Alumnae members have been asked to bring their fanciest salad and ideas for the two upcoming events.

Dues of $10 should be mailed to Mrs. Borden Price, treasurer, at 2513 13th Ave. as soon as possible. The budget committee is scheduled to meet before the next regular meeting.

Attending the recent meeting were Mmes. Rose Kinzer. Fred Stoker, Vaughn Nelson, John Green, Edith Priddy, W.E. Miller, Dean Nicholas, Claiborn Crain, Renna Bellah, J.W. King, Price, and Olson.

Local Schools Top Predictions

Twenty-three students more than projected started school last week in the Canyon School System, bringing the total to 2,742, according to Jerry Jacobs, school superintendent.

Rex Reeves Elementary School showed a decrease in enrollment from last year's 1,030 to this year's 892. Gene Howe Elementary School in south Amarillo showed a marked increase from last year's 277 students to this year's 403.

An increased enrollment of 39 students brought the total to 766 students at Canyon Junior High School. Last year's enrollment was 727.

Canyon High School recorded an increase of 23 students to 681 this year. Last year the high school enrolled some 658 students.

Projected enrollment for this year was 2,719, Jacobs said. Last year's total enrollment was 2,731.

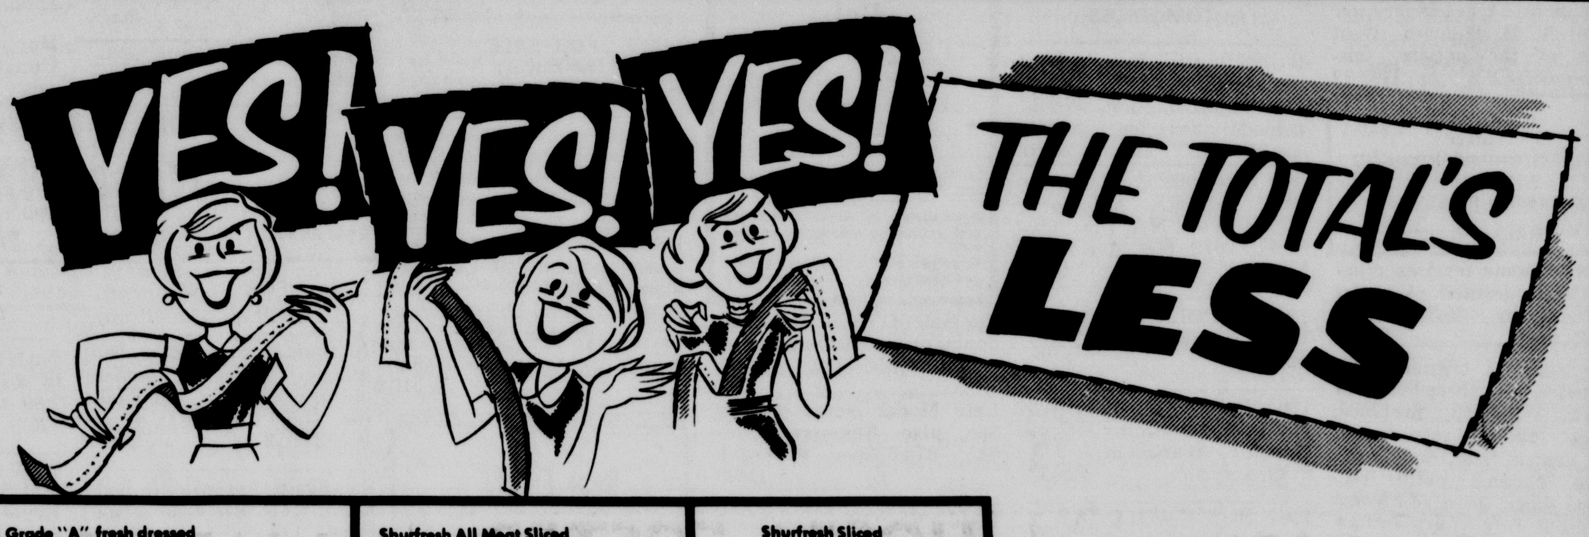

Miss Van Valkenburg Receives Master's

Wanda Van Valkenburg was among 1,206 students from 37 different states receiving degrees at summer commencement Aug. 14 at North Texas State University.

Miss Van Valkenburg, daughter of Mrs. Dottie Dorris, 2622 12th, Canyon, received a master of library science degree.

She is now employed in the library of West Texas State University.

C-C Urges Attendance

In a session Monday night in the Canyon Community Center, Chamber of Commerce president Eddie Knowles urged members to be present for a meeting on the Interstate 27 loop around Canyon which the Texas Highway Department has set for Sept. 28 in the Student Activities Center at WTSU.

Knowles said he wanted a good crowd "in hopes of obtaining the best suitable route for Canyon."

Chamber members viewed a film on the United Way and voted to check into the system during the next few months.

"If we feel like the people of the city and the merchants would like to be part of it, we will go further," said Knowles. "No definite steps have been taken yet."

A garage sale has been planned for the Sept. 17 and 18. Money is to be used to pay for recently-ordered Christmas decorations for the city.

A "Businessmen's-New Faculty Member" dinner was set for Sept. 25 in WTSU's East Dining Hall. New teachers in the public schools and at the university will be Chamber guests.

Last Week Of Drills

West Texas State University's football squad is going through its final week of heavy contact work prior to opening the season at Memphis State Sept. 11.

The Buffaloes worked under the lights on the Canyon High School practice field Tuesday night in order for them to become accustom to playing under lights prior to the season opener.

"The workout under the lights was a good one," said head coach Gene Mayfield. "We were able to accomplish what we wanted that night and players worked hard."

Mayfield was not pleased by the Saturday afternoon scrimmage in Buffalo Bowl but has been happy with the progress since then, but says it would not be hard to make progress from the point his team was at Saturday.

Earlier in the week the Buffaloes lost offensive guard starter Gary Ruston.

Fraternity Members Attend 36th Convention

Several members of Epsilon Iota chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi national business faternity of West Texas State University attended the 36th national convention of the fraternity recently in Las Vegas, Nev.

Members attending the convention were Danny Gresham, president; Robert Valdez, vice president; Clinton Bugg, secretary and the chapter delegate; Jim Ed Wines, Gary Moeller, Ricky Roberts, Rick McAlpine, Alan Love, John Guidry, and alumni Mark Malone and Pat Robbins.

Epsilon Iota chapter had the largest number of members present of any chapter in the United States, said William A. Miller, faculty advisor of the group, who also attended the convention. Miller is in the department of computer information systems.

The chapter received a perfect rating in efficiency for the third year consecutively, Miller said. Pat Robbins was one of four fraternity members in the country to be selected as a John Sparks Fellow. Sparks was a nationally known backer of their fraternity, Miller said.

Discussed at the convention was the question of allowing women to become members of the fraternity. A study committee was established to develop a plan for little sister chapters.

"There were some outstanding speakers both business and academic," Miller said. Speakers included a college president, the lieutenant governor of Nevada and the associate director of NASA. "Our chapter did receive a great deal of recognition at the convention," he added.

The next national convention is planned for 1973 in Indianapolis, Ind.

At the time of his death he was pastor of Salida's First Lutheran Church and also served Hope Lutheran Church in Westcliffe, Colo. He spent 16 years in the ministry.

Canyon Booster Club Hosts Ice Cream Social

The Canyon Booster Club open Purple Passion Week Monday night at the high school practice field with an ice cream social.

Introduced at the social were the coaching staffs of both the high school and the junior high school and members of the Eagle varsity squad.

Purple Passion Week, as it was officially declared by Mayor Dr. J. Manly Bryan, was created to help sell tickets to the five Eagle home games and to sell memberships to the Eagle Booster Club.

Reserved tickets to the Eagle games are selling for $1.75, while bench seat ducats are on sale for $1.50. A membership to the Booster Club and a reserved seat for the home tilts can be purchased for $10. according to Booster Club vice president Col. John Childs.

Memberships to the Booster Club may be purchased for $2 per individual membership and $25 for a business membership.

Tickets or memberships may be purchased from any Booster Club member.

Head Eagle Coach Ron Mills, introduced the Eagle squad to those gathered and then had the team run through the basic offensive and defensive sets that the Eagles would use during the regular season.

In a talk to the crowd, Jim Curtis, president of the club, said that another camera had been purchased to aid in the filming of the football and basketball games. He also said that the purchase of a pitching machine for the Canyon baseball team and a rebounding machine for the junior high basketball program had been discussed.

He proposed to the group that a player of the week in football and both girls and boys basketball be named each week during the seasons and in any other sports that the coaches wished to do so. Curtis said that this award should be given in all grade levels. He also proposed that the club meet at least twice a month during the basketball season.

"The Booster Club is organized to boost all sports in all grades," Curtis commented, "But the most important function of this club is for the parents to show an interest in these boys and girls."

Curtis read a financial statement prepared by secretary-treasurer of the group, Ruby Abbott. The report showed that the club has an outstanding note of $880 and that they have $225 in the bank.

The first regular meeting of the club has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night. Curtis said that the meeting would be held each Tuesday night in the future, so as not to conflict with the West Texas State University Booster Club.

Steve Garmes

Steve Garmes Named First Baptist Youth Director

Steve Garmes became part-time youth director of First Baptist Church in a business meeting held Sunday night.

Garmes is a junior music education major at West Texas State University. He has been serving as music director for Temple Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Before coming to WTSU, Garmes attended Eastern New Mexico State University. He is from Plainview.

This summer he has played the role of Dave Newberry in "TEXAS."

Mrs. Garmes is a native of Amarillo. She is also a student at WTSU.

Christian To Have Surgery

Jerry Christian, a key player on last year's West Texas State basketball squad, will undergo surgery Friday morning to correct a leg injury.

The 6-6, 210-pounder from East Liverpool, Ohio, will undergo the surgery in Amarillo's High Plains Baptist Hospital. He had the same operation in the summer of 1970 to correct bone damage on his left leg. This operation will be on his right leg.

Coach Dennis Walling says he expects Christian to be ready for the Dec. 1 opener in Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum against Fort Lewis State University, but said the junior forward-post man will miss most of the pre-season practice.

One of Walling's lettermen — last year's 10th leading scorer, Keith Batiste, did not return to school. The 6-4 Los Angeles junior is transfering to Cal State at Riverside and will play ball there.

Freeze...

Aug. 17 instead of on Aug. 15, the raise would have been allowed.

Contracts signed last spring by most faculty members became effective Aug. 16, one day after the Nixon edict went into effect.

Teachers who went to work Aug. 1 received their scheduled raises as did the members of the administrative staff.

Teachers having completed masters degrees will be allowed pay hikes since this will be considered a promotion instead of a pay raise.

School business manager Ray Schultz said, "For the most part the the freeze did not affect the 10½, 11 or 12 month employes salary hikes.

These employes are the counselors, the coaches, the vocational teachers and the administrative staff.

quor in their town," Butler declared. "So we want to keep it as far away from them as possible."

"I want it closer to Umbarger too," Bolte urged. "We will have a better chance of passing it."

But problems arose over that eastern boundary location as both sides began drawing precinct lines.

The Umbarger men protested when the boundary was a straight ½-mile east of the Umbarger city limits, but commissioners balked when the boundary was moved two miles further out.

"If you move it too close to Umbarger we won't have the needed voters," Raymond Batenhorst said. "Also, we are cutting out lots of the people who want to vote on this thing — me included."

"But if we move it too far east it would be too close to Canyon," countered Commissioner Jim Fletcher.

The boundary settlement places the northern line at McCormick Road section line, the western boundary at the Deaf Smith County line, and southward to the old southern boundary.

The eastern boundary line is the irregular formation, running only ½-mile east of Umbarger along U.S. Highway 60 but spreading out to a little more than a mile east further north of the city.

"The boundary runs 1 mile and 300 feet east at its most eastern point," County Clerk LeRoy Hutton pointed out.

Voting precincts 5 and 7 will enlarge to encompass the eastern portions of the old voting precinct 4, and the area in the southeast section of the county that had been Justice Precinct 3 will be included in Justice Precinct 1.

Hutton noted all commissioners precincts will remain the same.

In other action Monday, the court approved a 1972 budget of $1,028,396.25 with a beginning balance of $389,509.32. Expenditures are expected to reach $1,166.970, leaving an estimated balance of $265,935.57.

Insurance premiums for county employes are included in the new budget.

The 1971 budget began with a balance of $509,000.04, and estimated receipts of $989,602.02. Estimated disbursements totalled $1,040,388 with a balance of $458,214.06.

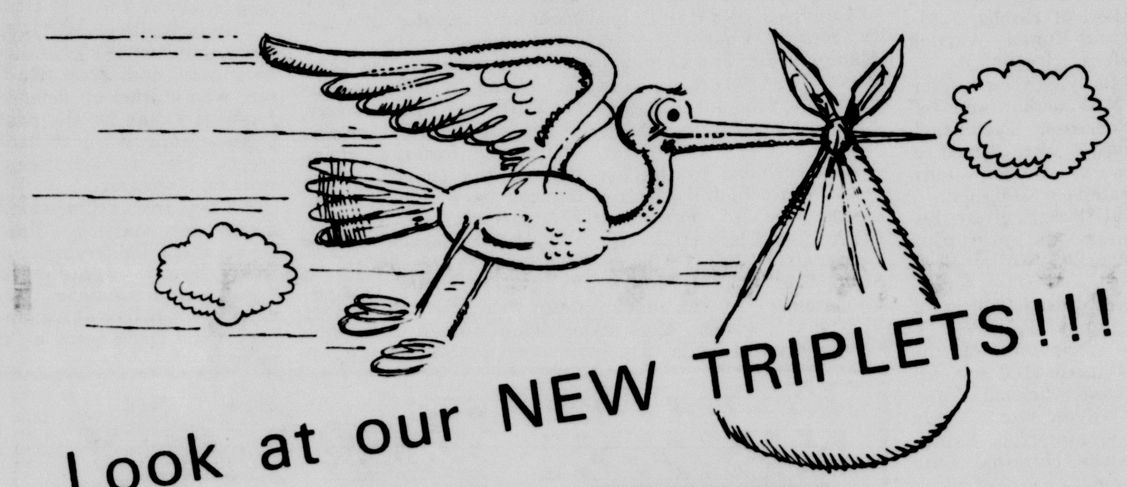

The tax rate for next year will remain at $1.05 per $100 valuation, which is the same as this year.

Commissioners purchased a 1972 pickup for the road department from International on bids opened Monday. The pickup will cost $2,300.00 with a trade-in.

Commissioners also approved a plat in the Siesta Addition north of McCormick Road. The decision came after several weeks of discussion concerning the paving of access roads to the area.

"We want to make sure the developers pave the road and the county is not held responsible for them," one commissioner explained.

Umbarger News

BY SUSAN DOLLE

Happy first of September to you! Kids, big, medium and small are settling down in their favorite classes. A few had bus problems for a while, but by now remembering the number of the right one is not the biggest problem of the day.

Some of the students making the scene at kindergarten are Troy Sharke, Kenneth Adams and Darin Adams at Rex Reeves Elementary, and Becky Wieck, Valerie Fishbacher, Curt Haschke, Justin Suthers, Jeanette Grotegut, and Jennifer Dolle who attend the Methodist Kindergarten.

Freshman from Umbarger are enrolled at West Texas State University include Philip Brandt, Marilyn Gerber, Henry Ramaekers, Pat Wieck, Darlene Suther and Andy Wilhelm. Andy is the recipient of the Wilfred Taylor, Sr. and a Kiwanis Club scholarship and is interested in general agriculture. Attending Amarillo Junior College is David Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Friemel flew to Memphis, Tennessee last week for a late summer vacation. While in the south, they visited relatives including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arndt of Cullman, Ala. who were celebrating their silver anniversary. Mrs. Arndt and Mrs. Friemel are sisters.

Another silver anniversary this week is that of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Friemel. PeeWee married the former Ernestine Short in Little Rock, Ark. on Sept. 3 twenty-five years ago. They began their married life around Umbarger and have lived here since. Their seven children are Yvonne of Denver, Kenneth of Bloomfield, New Mex., Gwen of Amarillo, and Dave, Pam, Bryan, and Jay of the home.

Christopher James Meyer is the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer, Jr. Born last Wednesday, August 25 at Northwest Hospital, the little boy weighed eight pounds. He has joined his two older sisters, Rena, 4 and Connie, 18 months, at home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Conard Westhoff and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer, Sr.

Square dancing lessons for beginners are being offered once again by the Pistols and Petticoats Square Dancing Club. Herrick Allen, club caller, will begin Sunday night, Sept. 5 at 6:30, calling for the newcomers. Lessons are open for everyone.

One square from the club visited the Canyon Capers club Monday night and danced to the calling of Knox Day.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Stocker is their oldest daughter Deanna. She and her husband Gene Magera and four children are here from Atlanta, Ga.

Some traffic information: when heading for Canyon from Umbarger which is the correct lane to use when turning onto the highway?

A traffic patrolman said always turn into the lane closest to you. So when turning left onto the highway turn into the left lane then adjust speed to the flow of traffic and ease into the right lane.

After entering the highway the only other appropriate time to use the left lane is when passing or makin a left turn. The left lane is not intended for continuously driving.

Wilson Study At Edinburgh

The course of study is sponsored by Earlham, located in Richmond, Ind. Wilson is a junior majoring in literature and drama at the college.

Cattle Brands Re-registered

Randall County ranchers and farmers have six months to re-register cattle brands, according to county clerk LeRoy Hutton.

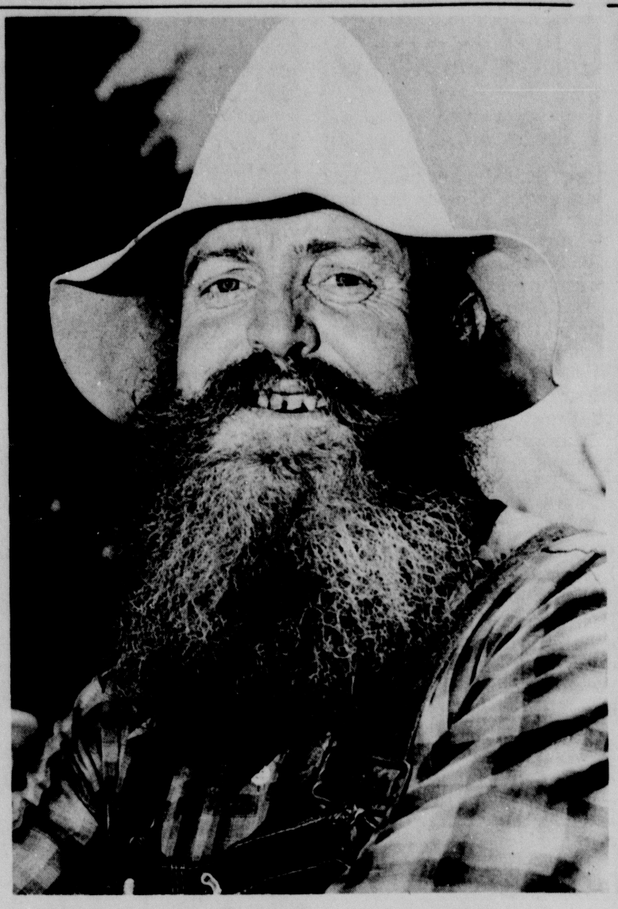

The Texas legislature passed a law during the last session requiring all livestock to be rerecorded with county clerks between Aug. 30, 1971 and Feb. 29, 1972.

Registration will include the brand and marks and location on the animal.

The new law states all brands and marks must be recorded every 10 years.

According to the law, an owner will have the right during the six months to file the mark and brand now recorded in his name. It will be the responsibility of the clerk to make certain the same brand is not recorded twice.

Cattle which will be taken to several counties must be registered in each county.

Real Live Thing

Henry Springmeyer of Liberal, Kan., sports something less than a glamorous grin after being told he had been given an award for the ugliest beard at the Happy celebration last week end. Springmeyer is a member of the Amarillo Model A Club and was in Happy for the parade.

Mrs. Taylor Empties Garden

BY JERRY MONTGOMERY

It's canning and freezing time for many area housewives.

Mrs. Geary Taylor has been emptying the family garden to "put up" this year's vegetables by freezing and canning.

By admittance more proficient at freezing than canning. Mrs. Taylor has been busy with her cucumbers and beets, both of which she "hot packs."

By hot packing the vegetables, she refers to a method of preserving them by heating jars and lids as well as the mixture. For pickling she boils the jars and lids 15 minutes, while making her brine solution of vinegar, salt and water. Her recipe calls for three quarts of water, one quart of vinegar and one cup of salt. The recipe can be cut down in equal parts, however.

Although some recipes call for soaking the cucumbers overnight in cold water, Mrs. Taylor just cuts the ends off, removes bad spots and often slices the cucumbers.

The dill is placed in the bottom of the jar. The boiling mixture is poured into the jar after the cucumbers are placed in the jar. She puts the rings and lids on the jars and sets it aside where it will seal itself.

Beets are canned by essentially the same method, however they must be cooked she said. She cuts the tops off but leaves the roots on for the time being, since "they'll bleed if you cut the tops and roots off at that time. She then skins the beets and boils them, removing the tops and roots after boiling.

Equal amounts of vinegar, sugar and water are used for canning beets, which can be quartered or left whole. The hot pack method described above is used for canning beets also. In either case, the liquid when poured into the jars must come within one quarter to one-half inch of the top of the jar in order to seal. "If the lid doesn't pop when it's taken off, they may have spoiled," she said. Mrs. Taylor has already put up about 20 pint of beets.

Mrs. Taylor also plans to can some green beans soon, using the pressure canning method. She cleans and boils the jars, rings and tops, although it is not necessary for pressure canning, she explained. In pressure canning, everything is packed raw, she said. The green beans are placed in the jar with salt and water. The liquid should again come to within an inch of the top of the jar. Lids should be placed on the jars according to the manufacturer's instructions. The jars are then placed in a pressure cooker under 10 pounds of pressure for 20 minutes. Mrs. Taylor then boils the vegetables for about 10 minutes when preparing them for a meal after they have been canned.

Many vegetables can be packed raw or cooked, including corn, carrots, black-eyed peas and potatoes. She does not can potatoes often, but says they come in handy for stews or for putting with a roast.

Mrs. Taylor also freezes beans, black-eyed peas, corn, yellow squash, zucchini and okra. Most of these vegetables must be blanched. By blanching, she refers to the placing of the vegetables in already boiling water for about two to three minutes. They should be covered and allowed to boil. The vegetables are then taken immediately from the hot water and placed in cold water for about the same length of time as the hot water. They are then drained and put into freezer bags.

Okra is one vegetable she does not blanch, however. She cleans the okra, cuts off the ends, slices it and rolls it in corn meal before placint it in the freezer bags. Frozen in this method the okra will be ready to fry when thawed.

Corn is blanched on the cob, she said, and then scraped off. "I have found that corn frozen on the cob just doesn't freeze well or taste the same," she said.

Mrs. Taylor said she also stews tomatoes and freezes them for later use in chili and stews.

The Taylors have all kinds of vegetables in their garden, including pumpkins, (an experiment this year), tomatoes, black-eyed peas, onions, green beans, two kinds of squash, beets, okra, asparagus and spinach. She has also planted watermelon and canteloup.

With a family of four, and expecting another, the vegetables come in handy. Canned vegetables are usually good for about five years as compared to the one year that frozen vegetables are good without getting freezer burn.

Taylor is a consignee for Continental Oil in Canyon and Amarillo. The couple has two children, Todd, 6, and Van, 3.

Mrs. Taylor is a registered medical technologist, having studied four years at Oklahoma University where she received her degree and one year in Houston. She received a teaching certificate in secondary science from West Texas State University and previously taught elementary school.

About two years ago the attractive housewife became interested in antique canning bottles and now has a small collection. Some she received from her husband's grandmother including one which was patented in 1908 and one patented in 1915.

Mrs. Taylor cans a few jars at a time these days and has been canning for about three years. When she first began canning vegetables, she recalled, she had to make phone calls to mothers or grandmothers who gave her long distance assistance. Now, she laughs, "I can do it without having to call somebody."

Mrs. Geary Taylor spends a lot of time these days between canning and freezing vegetables from the family garden and taking care of the two youngsters, Van, 3, and Todd, 6.

Books Due

Club books for the coming year are needed by the Canyon News Society Department as soon as possible.

Mrs. Harry Ross Vassallo
nee Deborah Ann Marrs

Benny Turner

The 1971 grid season promises to be a most interesting one for all persons concerned with the Canyon Eagles.

Head Coach Ron Mills, in his first year at the school, is plagued by a teamful of inexperienced gridders and a pre-conference schedule that would send a tingle up any coach's spine.

All is not bad for the Eagles, however, as Mills unveiled his '71 crew in Plainview last Friday. The Eagles put on an aerial display that would be hard to match.

Earlier in the year Mills had said that to be competitive the Eagles would have to use their passing game quite a bit. The number one quarterback for the Eagles, all-district candidate Chuck Wright, more than fullfilled the need for a passing quarterback.

The story does not end there though, as Mike Shadix, the number two man under the center, also has a more than adequate arm to pilot the Eagles aerial attack.

The two chief receivers, Fred Groana and Mike Podzemny are definitely first rate. Tall, fairly good sized and both have a good pair of hands.

The tale could go any number of ways from here. The offensive lineman are very aggressive and will hit people. The defensive linemen are also aggressive and like to hit people, but here is where the inexperience shows through.

Several times in the Eagle's scrimmage with Snyder, the linemen were taken completely unaware on quick traps, while the defensive secondary were a bit confused on some pass coverages, and the Tigers unleashed a couple of aerial bombs.

There is a very redeeming factor about the defense in that they are aggressive and that there is no lack of desire in the ballclub.

In the scrimmage last Friday, except in times of confusions, the whole squad looked promising.

Van James, Roy Markum and Larry Prichard proved to very bright spots for the defensive unit.

Many area sportswriters and area football magazines rated the Eagles fairly low in the district race, and statistically, rightfully so. The The Eagles have no experience, no outstanding speed, not a very large ballclub and they must beat Dumas and Levelland to capture the title.

But — one factor that can not be seen by a reporter in a midsummer interview, is the team itself, the boys and what makes them click as a team.

Baylor is a prime example of this. Year after year they have fielded some superior talent, but each year the Bears finish in the lower division or close to it in the Southwest Conference. Statistically the Bears could have been rated as tops in the conference many times, but they have yet to win the crown in recent years.

The Eagles have that talent and have the desire, but whether or not they can over come their lack of speed and experience by the district race remains to be seen.

Savings, Loan Application Withdrawn

Panhandle Savings & Loan Association has formally withdrawn its application for a branch office to be located in Canyon, according to Jack M. Huddleston, President of Panhandle Savings. Huddleston reported that an amendment to the Savings and Loan Rules and Regulations effective Sept. 1, makes it impossible for a savings association outside a standard metropolitan statistical area with less than 200,000 people as defined by the Bureau of Census to cross a county line.

"Very simply and in lay terms, savings associations in San Antonio, Austin, Houston, Dallas and Ft. Worth being located in larger standard metropolitan statistical areas have the right by regulation to cross a county linewithin their standard metropolitan statistical area," he explained. "Those of us who are not included within the larger standard metropolitan statistical areas simply are not eligible for out of county branching under present regulations."

Huddleston further stated that in his opinion this regulation was unfair to those smaller SMSAs, and he intends to try to organize support to require a hearing and attempt to modify the rules to give a better and more equitable ruling to any financial institution aggressive enough and ambitious enough to serve more people and more areas within their SMSAS regardless of size.

Amarillo's SMSA is defined as Potter and Randall Counties and reportedly has 140,000 people. Generally speaking a SMSA must have a central city with as many as 50,000 persons, Huddleston said.

Grace Thorpe to Tell Of Indian Movement

Grace Thorpe, daughter of football's great Jim Thorpe, will speak at the WTSU Student Activities Center at 8 p.m. today.

She is to discuss the New Indian Movement.

Miss Thorpe's talk will be the first in a series of special programs sponsored by the WTSU Student Activities Council.

Miss Thorpe has spent the last 12 years working with the Indian campaign for the return of surplus federal lands.

She lived on Alcatraz for three months during Indian occupation of the island.

She heads the Return of Surplus Lands to the Indian Project, which aims at winning the right to bid on original Indian lands which have been declared surplus and which are expected to go on sale to local and state governments and commercial and industrial firms in the future.

The program is free to WTSU students, faculty, and staff. Tickets may be obtained at the Activities Center Office with a current ID card.

The general public may purchase tickets at $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Two Injured In Accidents

Two persons were injured in separate accidents this weekend in Canyon.

As a result of a motorcycle-car accident, Clifford Harold Galley of Amarillo spent Saturday night in Neblett Memorial Hospital after the motorcycle he was riding struck a car driven by George Harvey Engler also of Amarillo.

The accident occured on U.S. 87 in the north bound lane near First Ave., said investigating officers.

The second accident sent Ellis Arthur Brown of 509 20th Street, Canyon, to Neblett Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

The Brown vehicle was parked in the 2400 block of 11th Ave. when a car driven by J. Mack White of 2601 11th Ave. struck the Brown car, according to Canyon police officials.

Tuition Hikes Still Hanging

West Texas State University Financial Vice President Virgil Henson is scratching his head over tuition hikes affecting the 7,200 students enrolled for the fall semester.

Henson said in the past week he has had three decisions," and all of them differ."

Problems began when the presidential freeze was announced last month.

Administrators did not know whether to charge the new rate which had been authorized by the 62nd Legislature, or to revert back to the old rate in effect last spring.

He said the new rate was charged at enrollment last week.

A federal decision on whether tuition hikes at state schools will be nullified has not been made, Henson reported.

Henson said he talked with the Internal Revenue Service office in Dallas this week and they verbally told him to continue charging the new fees.

"They requested I send them a letter stating our conversation and they would verify their position."

Henson said he did not expect an answer to his letter until mid-October.

"When a final decision is made in writing by an official of the federal government so we can depend on it not being reversed the next day we will then adjust the tuition accordingly," the university vice president declared.
